The last half of my life was spent at one of those painful epochs of human history, during which the world seemed to be getting worse; where past victories which had seemed to be definitive had turned out to be only temporary. when I was young, victorian optimism was taken for granted. It was thought that freedom and prosperity would spread gradually throughout the world through an orderly process, and it was hoped that cruelty, tyranny, and injustice would continually diminish. It is not luck but labour that makes a man. Luck, says an American writer, is ever waiting for something to turn up; labour with keen eyes and strong will always turns up something. Luck lies in bed and wishes the postman would bring him news of a legacy; labour turns out at six and with busy pen and ringing hammer lays the foundation of competence. Luck whines, labour watches. Luck relies on chance, labour on character. Luck slips downwards on self-indulgence; labour strides upwards and aspires to independence. The conviction, therefore, is extending that diligence is the mother of good luck. In other words, that a man's success in life will be proportionate to his efforts, his industry, to his attention to small things.

- Q. 01 Which one of the following statements sums up the meaning of the passage?
- (a) Luck waits without exertion, but labour exerts without waiting.
  - (b) Luck waits and complains without working while labour achieves success although it complains. et al
  - (c) Luck is self-indulgent, but labour is selfless.
  - (d) Luck often ends in defeat, but labour produces luck.
- Q. 02 Which one of the following words in the passage indicate that the writer does not ultimately reject the element of Luck?
- (a) 'Luck...is ever waiting'
  - (b) 'Luck whines'
  - (c) 'Diligence is the mother of good luck'

(d) 'Luck... wishes the postman would bring him news.'

3. Which one of the statements is true about the passage?

- (a) Luck is necessary for success.
- (b) Success depends only on hard luck..
- (c) Expectation of good luck always meets with disappointment.
- (d) Success is exactly proportionate to hard work.

4. " Labour turns out at six and with busy pen and ringing hammer lays the foundation of competence." What does this statement mean?

- (a) Hard work of all kinds makes people efficient.
- (b) Labour lays the foundation of the building.
- (c) The writer and the labourer are the true eyes of the society.
- (d) There is no worker who works so hard as the labourer who begins his day at six in the morning.

What is the synonyms of labour?

- (a) Exertion
- (b) Owner
- (c) Colleague
- (d) Cook

To those who do listen, the desert speaks of things with an emphasis quite different from that of the shore, the mountain, the valley, or the plains. Whereas these invite action and suggest limitless opportunity and exhaustless resources, the implications and the mood of the desert are something different. For one thing, the desert is conservative, not radical. It is more likely to provide awe than to invite conquest. The heroism which it encourages is the heroism of the endurance, not that of conquest. It brings man up against his limitation, turns him in upon himself and suggests values which more indulgent regions suppress. Sometimes it induces contemplation in men who have never contemplated before. And of all the answers to the question-what is a desert good for 'contemplation' is perhaps the best.

1. In order to receive the desert's message, the beholder liny needs to be

- (a) Courageous in his reaction
- (b) Conservative in his responses
- (c) A good listener
- (d) Sensitive to nature adio to

2. The desert is unique among landscapes in that it encourages only

- (a) Contemplation

- (b) Indolence
- (c) Heroic endeavour
- (d) Adventurous spirit

3. If one responds with insight to the mood of the desert, it evokes

- (a) An inclination for deep thought
- (b) The possibility of unending resources
- (c) The desire for heroic conquest
- (d) A sense of intense revulsion

4. The writer calls the desert 'conservative' rather than 'radical' because it provides an environment that

- (a) Inspires man to explore it
- (b) Offers unlimited opportunity to conquer
- (c) Tests one's endurance
- (d) Makes one gloomy

5. What does the phrase "it brings man up against his limitations", mean?

- (a) It makes man feel hopeless about his limitations.
- (b) It makes man aware of his limitations.
- (c) It compels man to fight against his limitations.
- (d) It persuades man to overcome his limitations.

Read the following passage and answer the questions based on it.

Work expands so as to fill the time available for its completion. The general recognition of this fact is shown in the proverbial phrase, 'It is the busiest man who has no time to spare.' Thus, an elderly lady at leisure can spend the entire day writing a postcard to her niece. An hour will be spent in finding the postcard, another hunting for spectacles, half an hour to search for the address, an hour and a quarter in composition and twenty minutes in deciding whether or not to take an umbrella when going to the pillar box in the street. The total effort that would occupy a busy man for three minutes, all told, may in this fashion leave another person completely exhausted after a day of doubt, anxiety and toil.

1. What happens when the time to be spent on some work increases?
- (a) The work is done smoothly
  - (b) The work is done leisurely
  - (c) The work consumes all the time
  - (d) The work needs additional time

- (b) Whatever time is available for a given amount of work, all of it will be used.
- (c) If you have more time, you can do more work.
- (d) If you have some important work to do, you should always have some additional time.

- (d) An exhausted person

4. What is the total time spent by the elderly lady in writing a postcard?

- (a) Three minutes
- (b) Four hours and five minutes

Following chaotic scenes in the Lok Sabha-with a clamorous Congress sticking to its demands for dropping the DMK from the UF and the DMK responding by calling for a debate on the Thakkar Commission's controversial findings-an anguished Speaker P. V. N. Srinivasan had little option but to adjourn the House sine die. With Parliament having been put into cold storage, the politics of durbar maneuvering at which the Congress, in particular, is a pastmaster-will inevitably come to the fore. While wheeling-dealing will be the order of the day, when the scene shifts to Rashtra Pati Bhavan, the President assuredly will exercise his prerogative in the best interest of the country.

1. The passage expresses the fear that

- (a) the politics of wheeling-dealing will prevail.
- (b) the politics of maneuvering will come to an end.
- (c) the President may not work in the interest of the people.

3. The author is of the opinion that

- (a) Congress party has behaved very well.
- (b) P.A. Sangma has done what many would have done.
- (c) The President will use discretion.
- (d) DMK should have been dropped.

4. What is synonyms of house

Unseen Passage – IX

It is difficult to reconcile the ideas of different schools of thought on the question of education. Some people maintain that pupils at school should concentrate on a narrow range of subjects which will benefit them directly in their subsequent careers. Others contend that they should study a wide range of subjects so that they have not only the specialised knowledge necessary for their chosen careers but also sound general knowledge about the world they will have to work and live in. Supporters of the first theory state that the greatest contributions to civilisation are made by those who are experts in their trade or profession. Those on the other side say that, unless they have a broad general education, the experts will be too narrow in their outlook to have sympathy with their fellows or a proper sense or responsibility towards humanity as a whole.

1. 'Schools of thought' can be explained as

- (a) groups of people who are schooled to think
- (b) groups of people whose job is to think
- (c) groups of people having the same ideas but with different perception on a particular subject

(d) groups of people who study in a particular school thoughtfully.

2. Broad general knowledge is necessary because\

- (a) it broadens one's outlook
- (b) it teaches us about different things
- (c) without it no one would get a job
- (d) specialisation is incomplete without it

3. Supporters of the first theory say that

- (a) experts have contributed most to progress in the modern world\
- (b) experts have done nothing to help mankind
- (c) people with general knowledge are more useful than experts
- (d) people with general knowledge have contributed to civilisation

4. According to the second school of thought, education will not be very effective if pupils

- (a) have nothing but general knowledge.
- (b) ignore the study of fine arts.
- (c) do not have a wide general education.
- (d) have inadequate knowledge of their own work.

5. The idea of the first school of thought in the passage is that

- (a) students should study a few subjects that will help them in their profession
- (b) students should study all the subjects they want to
- (c) students should not undertake any specialised work
- (d) students should concentrate on studies.

 vexed problem facing us is the clamour to open more colleges and to reserve more seats for backward classes. But it will be a sheer folly to expand such facilities recklessly without giving any thought to the quality of education imparted. If admissions are made far more selective, it will automatically reduce the number of entrants. This should apply particularly to new colleges, many of which are little more than degree factories. Only then can the authorities hope to bring down the teacher-student ratio to manageable proportion. What is more, teachers should be given refresher courses every summer to brush up their knowledge. Besides, if college managements increase their library budget it will help both the staff and the students a great deal.

At the same time, however, it will be unfair to deny college education to thousands of young men and women, unless employers stop insisting on degrees even for clerical jobs. For a start, why cannot the government disqualify graduates from securing certain jobs, say Class III and IV posts? Once the link between degrees and jobs is severed, at least in some important departments, it will make young people think twice before joining college.

1. What can automatically help to reduce admissions?
- (a) Tough entrance tests
  - (b) Discouragement to open new colleges
  - (c) Selective admissions
  - (d) Abolishing reservation
2. How can the standards of education be raised?
- (a) By admitting only the best students
  - (b) By opening model institutions
  - (c) By discouraging dull students
  - (d) By reducing the number of new entrants
3. How can teachers be helped to brush up their knowledge?
- (a) By providing better library facilities
  - (b) By arranging refresher courses
  - (c) By providing them more leisure
  - (d) By persuasive measures
4. The author is not in favour of restricting admissions
- (a) Unless degrees are delinked from jobs
  - (b) Unless alternative opportunities are provided
  - (c) Unless other incentives are offered
  - (d) Unless the teacher-student ratio is changed
5. What does the phrase 'vexed problem' mean?
- (a) An extraordinary problem
  - (b) A problem which is being discussed at length
  - (c) A difficult problem
  - (d) an irritating problem

SUMMARY

One value added Program on the topic "Computational Thinking using Scratch" was organized by the Department of Computer Science, D. P. Vipra College from 16/10/2023 to 09/12/2023 which was the period of total 35 days and 35 hours. The program was conducted by Prof. Vishwas Victor, Head of the Department. The teaching for this program was done by faculty members, namely Prof. Vishwas Victor, Dr. Richa Handa, Mr. Brijesh Kumar, Miss Neelam Singh, Miss Anjali Sona and Mrs. Abhilasha Singh. The total strength of the students who got registered for this program was 217. The students who participated were from B.Sc. (C.S.) I & II Year, B. C. A. I & II Year, DCA and PGDCA.

The main purpose of the Computational Thinking Using Scratch program is to provide students with an exciting, practical, and beginner-friendly platform to develop essential problem-solving skills. Computational Thinking (CT) is a problem-solving process that involves logical reasoning, pattern recognition, and algorithmic thinking. Scratch, a block-based visual programming language developed by MIT, provides an excellent platform for introducing learners to the concepts of CT. Scratch serves as an effective platform to introduce and enhance computational thinking. By engaging users in creating interactive projects, it fosters logical reasoning, problem decomposition, and algorithmic thinking. The visual, block-based nature of Scratch makes computational thinking accessible to learners of all ages, nurturing essential skills for the digital age. An internal assessment based on multiple-choice questions was set up at the end of the program to evaluate the students. And in the end, after valuation, certificates were issued and distributed to all the participants.
